

Is the six months for Canadians a permanent change?

Written by T. Rob Brown (aka Roberto Chocolate)

Thursday, 26 August 2010 00:53 - Last Updated Friday, 19 November 2010 17:20

I asked Yasser \(Alexis\) Williams Arosemena - my lawyer - if the 6 month extension for the tourist visa is a permanent change. Roberto

Hi Rob,

I consulted the Immigration Office and found out that there is no resolution, decree or law by which Canadians can remain in Panama up to 6 months since April 26th. It was an internal memo sent from the Presidency to the Immigration Office in which it was ordered that all citizens from American countries (excepting Ecuador, Peru, Dominican Republic, Haiti and Cuba) as well as from the European Union can remain in Panama as tourists for up to 6 months. For how long this will take place? We don't know. But I guess that tourists can take advantage of that.

Regards,

Yasser (Alexis) Williams Arosemena

Is the six months for Canadians a permanent change?

Written by T. Rob Brown (aka Roberto Chocolate)

Thursday, 26 August 2010 00:53 - Last Updated Friday, 19 November 2010 17:20

Attorneys at Law

Clear, Concise Legal Advice in English